Shaina Maldonado Receives TRIALS Scholarship

Ms. Shaina Maldonado of the University of South Florida has received the TRIALS Scholarship. TRIALS is a unique partnership of NYU School of Law, Harvard Law School, and the Advantage Testing Foundation. She will spend five weeks this summer at Harvard Law School preparing for the LSAT, attending lectures and enhancing her interpersonal skills.

Shaina is an Honors College senior majoring in International Business with a 4.0 GPA. She is currently a teaching assistant for Dr. Terry Sincich’s Business Statistics II course and has volunteered at the Museum of Science and Industry and the Teen Court Program at the Date City Courthouse. Through the College of Business, Shaina was selected for the Dean’s List for Academic Achievements.

She plans to use the knowledge and networking she gains from the TRIALS program as a foundation for her future education and career in international law.

The Office of National Scholarships identifies, recruits and mentors high achieving students to apply for national merit scholarships across all disciplines. The scholarships and fellowships are for creative, motivated and academically strong students who are leaders in and out of the classroom.

TRIALS is a residential scholarship program that helps talented and motivated college students of modest means gain admission to the nation’s leading law schools. This rigorous five-week summer course enhances opportunities for students of underrepresented backgrounds by bolstering their skills and focusing their goals.
